FORKLIFT TRUCKS

NEW MODEL

Introduction

This Israeli Mandatory Requirements (IMR) is the statutory document for forklifts into the State of Israel.

The document includes information and requirement for importing forklifts in compliance with updated standards and regulations.

Import of forklifts must be carried out by an accredited dealer, holding an import license issued by Israeli Ministry of Transport and Road Safety (MOT).

The imported forklift models must comply with the applicable European Union (EU) directives, regulations and other Union harmonization legislation listed in this document, including applicable amendments. In addition, forklifts must comply with the Israeli Standards relevant to the calendar year of import.

The U.S. federal regulations and standards listed in this document will be accepted for forklifts manufactured for and legally marketed in the United States, Canada or Mexico, where compliance with the applicable U.S. Federal requirements is demonstrated. Waivers or exemptions shall be accepted only where specifically provided for in this IMR.

The directives and regulations listed in this document will be effective according to the subject and the schedule noted for each directive or regulation.

The accredited dealer must submit the complete IMR document signed at the head office of the manufacturer, by an authorized representative of the manufacturer, and duly attested to by a notary public.

In some cases, and for certain items, the manufacturer will be requested to provide a copy of the certificates from an authorized laboratory.

The MOT reserves the right to update the requirements for forklifts during the calendar year 2027.

The Israeli Mandatory Requirements (IMR) document forms can be downloaded from the ministry's website at https://www.gov.il/he/departments/policies/imr_NRMM_2027.
